
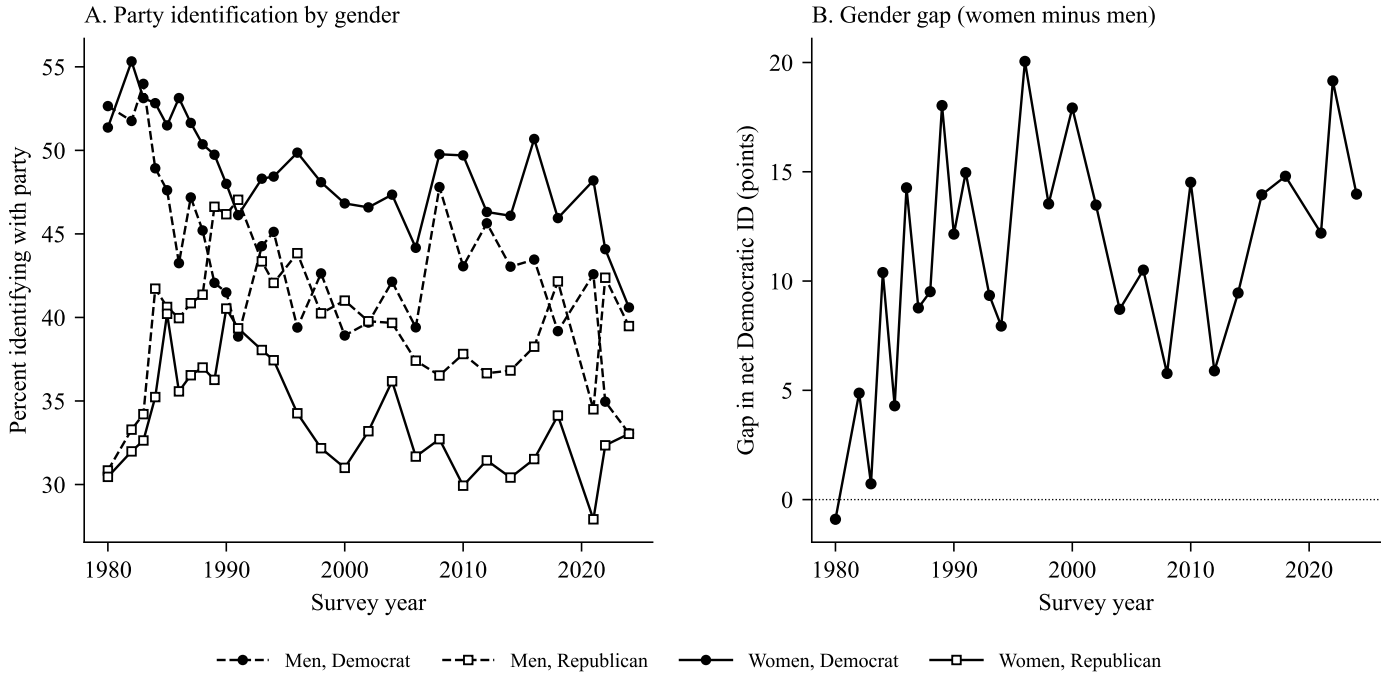

Figure 1. Party identification of American men and women, 1980–2024. Panel A shows the percentage of each gender identifying as Democrats and as Republicans; panel B shows the difference between women and men in net Democratic identification (percent Democrat minus percent Republican).

Note: Estimates are weighted. Independents who lean toward a party are classified with that party; respondents not coded male or female are excluded.
Source: General Social Survey cumulative file, 1972–2024 (NORC, Release 3a, July 2026).